Placer County Office of Education Presents:

Mike Mattos

Pyramid Response to Intervention (RtI)

OVERVIEW

RtI provides the answer to the third critical question in Professional Learning Communities: “How will we respond when some students don’t learn?” RtI provides the structure so staff can be efficient and effective in providing timely, targeted, systematic interventions to all students with a demonstrated need. This workshop is designed to help educators understand how to blend RtI into Professional Learning Communities so as to create a powerful, highly effective, site intervention program that ensures high levels of learning for all students.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER:

Mike Mattos is former principal of Pioneer Middle School in Tustin, California. Under his leadership, the school had consistent outstanding student achievement, ranked first among Orange County middle schools, and was in the top 1 percent of California middle schools. The school has also received National Blue Ribbon recognition.

To achieve success, Mike implemented PLC concepts, sustaining a collaborative environment among his staff. His vision has united teachers, counselors, and administrators in a common goal—to educate all students. For his leadership, Mike was named the Orange County Middle School Administrator of the Year by the Association of California School Administrators.
